Are you in the office? It maybe easier to explain over the phone. What is your phone#? Or you can call the lab (617)983-6631

Good Morning –

Is your quoted phrase always true for chemists and the process of certification?

“custodial chemist and I was the confirmatory chemist in these cases. Della actually the prelim testing, which includes weighing the samples, spot tests and microcrystalline tests. I did the structural identification of these samples to confirm that they were cocaine.”

Which chemist testifies usually? Does “spot tests” mean determining what the substance is? and from each individual submission? Should I try and get the defense attorney to agree to only require one chemist to appear?

Since Della is the primary chemist, I will relay the message to her. It should be in the mail by the end of the week.
